Scandinavian Cello School has one simple aim: To help young cellists.

We support, educate and promote cellists aged from 16-25 years old. Cellists are welcome from all over the world to apply for various SCS projects or to become an SCS Young Artist. In 2018 we opened the world's first permanent cello center and retreat, and from 2020 support musicians and artists from all forms.

Scandinavian Cello School is a non-profit organisation and accepted participants receive a 100% scholarship for tuition costs at all SCS projects.

The artistic advisory committee is formed of some of the most important figures in world music, including the head of the international music awards, cello professors, music managers, composers, artists and journalists. They all have the possibility and position to offer guidance and career support to those accepted onto SCS projects - an invaluable support.
